A report, which I cannot trace to any reliable source, is abroad, to the effect that the rebel steam tug Yankee was found by a gunboat to-day, in a disabled condition, and sunk.

The Rapublican adds: Government steamer was proceeding up the Missouri r ver from Lexington, conveying a number of principal to Fort Leavenworth for hetter security, et a broke her rudder at a place butween Bine Mill and Kansas City, and wes compelled to land. Shortly after reaching the shore sho to land. Shortly after reaching the shore, sl was hoarded by a Jackson county compeny secessionists, who seized the boat, released the secessionists, who reized the boat, released the prisoners—S. Withers among them—and secured about forty Federal soldiers as captives.

The Lacerty (Mo.) Tribune has a letter from Col. John T. Hughes, of the rebel army, which is issued in an anta, reporting thet a few days age the secession forces drova Gen. Lane and his com-mand into Kensa with twelve killed, thirty of forty wounded, and thirty use takan prisonors. He states that but two or three were killed and sixleen wounded on the secession side.

Two rebels who had taken the outh of allegiance, and were caught with arms in thoir hands, were taken out and ehot. Progress of Gen S. Price.—Authentic information has been received at Jefferson and in this city that General S. Price, ut the bead of this city that General S. Lexington is the heart of a rich country, and it may be that Gon, Price desires to possess himself of the intrenchments erected by the United States troops there, and thareby enable him to recoperate his Commissary and Quartermaster's Departments, up to this time not in a very flourishing state. Gen. Price has 11.000 men under his command, and he may be joined by 5,000 or 1,000 under Martin Green, who has unquestionably erceed the river, leaving the Northeast to take care of itself. Gen. Price has with him also some twelve or officer pieces of erlillery. Against this force the United States troops at Lexington do not number mere than 2,000, but, as they are intrenched and have quite as many as they are intrenched and have quite as many as hey are intenched and have quite as many pieces of artillery as the enemy, they will undoubtedly defend themselves in the expectation of relief from some quarter. It General Pope is advised of the approach of Prica upon Lexington, he will at once see the propriety of marching to the rolief of that city, and will, no doubt, ho it. We have a surunces that the Hannihal and St. loseph Railroad is now in a condition to travel ipon it, and General Pope can transport his men in a point only about forty-live miles distant from Leains, ten. Forced marches may bring his troops to that city is time to protect it from the enemy. If we mistake not, one of two regiments, from deferson City, have been marching for a week or two past in the direction of Lexington. Well armed and disciplined, as these troops now are, if they can be concentrated, they can drive back the rebole and very soon they will be discontinuous. the rebele, and very soon they will be driven out of the State.—St. Leuis Republican, 11th.

Thought on the frontier.—Late advices from the frontier represent that five thousand in dians are encamped on the first of the Kapublican river, Kansas, and are perpetrating con tant ontrages upon the property and person of pioneer estilere. It is said that extensive robberies have repeatedly been committed, and that enveral families have been murdered. The Omaha Nebraskian of the 5th inst. makes loud complaint respecting this painful condition of adlairs, and implores the speedy interposition of the government. From other sources, intelligence of the same startling, purport and cries fer relief reach us. Doubtless the inatter has already been fully brought to the attention of the national authority.

John Morgan.—About fixeen hundred people assembled yesterday at Carford Park, shove Frankford, to witness a trotting match for a purse of $1,000, between the mare Flora Temple, entered by her present owner. James McMann, and the horse Morgan, formerly Medoc, entered by Jas. Turner. Medoc is a large borse, sixteen hands bigh, that has trotted four times before with Flora, always heaten, but so well matching her that some hopes were entertained of his success in the present trot. The little hay won the pole at tossing up, and a basutiful slart was made at four o'clock. At the quarter pole Flora was a half length ahead, and she steadily increased the distancy until, at the end of the two miles, she crossed tha pole about two lengths in advance, making the heat in 5 minutes 31-2 seconds, Morgan keeping up well, lapping Flora at the three quarter pele on the second mile. The mare was evidently not put to hor speed, it being the opinion of her driver that the was neved.

Sunders Funds in Boston.—We understand from an authentic source that the total amount of Southern funds seized in this city, yearders, by the United States Murshal, reached hifty thousand dollars, the greater portion of which was found in the hands of the Southern Steamship Company. Of the whole amount thirty-live thousand dollars were in the shaps of Treasury notes. The funds will be held by Government until the close of the war, when, if the ownere are and have been loyal men, it will be restored to their use and custody.

JEFFERSON CITY, Sept. 14, 1861.

The steamer Sioux City has just arrived from above. She reports that the light at Boonville vectorday morning resulted in a victory for the flome Guards, commanded by Major Eppstein, who held their outrenchinsuts and stood by them. The rebels, one thousand strong, were driven back, but were in the neighborhood of Boonville when the Sionx City passed.

The Home Guards lost one man killed and four wounded. The rebel loss was twelve killed and thirty wounded. Among the killed of the latter were Col. Brown and Capt. Brown.

A small detachment of U.S. troops on the Sioux City had an engagement with Green's force at Glasgow, lasting half an hour, when a bettery of three guns opened on the hoat and they retired without loss.

A letter from Cairo dalod the 13th says:
